

Andrew Nolan

He is active within the Edinburgh Scottish Dancers group and also enjoys playing for SCD.

Originally from London, Andrew learned to dance at a children's class in Isleworth and it has stuck with him ever since.

Since gaining his certificate in 2012 while at University in Edinburgh, he has taught as far afield as Sydney to Ottawa as well as in the UK at the RSCDS Summer and Winter Schools.

Andrew takes a particular interest in less well known or 'forgotten' dances so hopes there will be something new for everyone in the classes.
